Linda Kindrick, Montana Community Finance

Talked about financing for small businesses. They have many options for lending money primarily for real estate purchase in association with running a business.

Example: Small Business Association (SBA) lends money through a lending institution. The SBA has counselors, planners, accountants and many resources needed for starting and running a business. If you have any questions about starting a business contact them.

The Montana Community Finance a team of real estate professionals that will help with business loans at a fixed rate.

Land Use Committee

K. Macefield led the discussion about Land Use and started to develop categories based on committee input.

More category development at the next meeting.
